Christmas 2012

A brief festive note from the committee

Half way through the season and Christmas is upon us. Many of you will already have left Sydney, heading to wherever you're spending the break - safe travels. For those staying in Sydney (and why wouldn't you??), here's a few dates and reminders. We'll be back in full swing in January, but until then have a safe and relaxing break - see you at the beach.
